Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Edith Maurer, daughter of William Maurer, 1018 W. Colfax av., to William C. Anthony, son of Mark Anthony of Streator, Ill. Miss Maurer is one of the sisters of the Maurer Sisters' quartet, which has been so popular in its tours with the Redpath Chautauqua company. The wedding will not take place until the quartet completes its engagement with the company, more than a year from the present time. It is probable that Miss Edith's withdrawal will break up the quartet, as she will be the second from the group to wed. Her elder sister, Frances, became the bride of George Hill of South Bend more than two years ago. The other members are Miss Gladys Maurer and Miss Irma Hootman. Miss Edith is the flutist and whistler of the quartet. Miss Gladys is violinist, Mrs. Hill plays the cornet and reads, and Miss Irma Hootman plays the piano and sings. They have been in South Bend for the past week but will leave Christmas morning for Ray, Colo. For six weeks they will travel through Colorado and Montana and from there will go to the coast to be gone altogether 14 weeks.

MISS EDITH MAURER.

One of the largest family dinners to be given Christmas day has been arranged by Sheriff and Mrs. Charles Bailey, 116 S. Lafayette st., at which the former's father, Levi Cottrell will be guest of honor. Covers will be laid for 30 guests. The house will be attractively decorated in red and green, Christmas bells and holly being used throughout. A beautiful decorated Christmas tree heavily laden with gifts for all present will be an especially interesting feature. The afternoon will be spent with games, music and social diversions. Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Armstrong and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Cottrell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Welmer, and also the deputies and turnkeys of this city. Mrs. Fred Porter of Chicago and Mrs. Hattie Hudson and daughter of Mishawaka will be guests from out of South Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gaik, 525 S. Main st., will entertain with a family dinner Christmas. The table will be prettily decorated with fruit and a miniature Christmas tree will be used in the center. Covers will be placed for 20 guests. Following the dinner the afternoon will be spent socially with games and music and a Christmas tree will be enjoyed. Among those present will be Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Reidenbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nave and Mr. and Mrs. John Gaik all of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gaik of Chicago.

Miss Helen Davies, 317 W. Washington av., entertained very pleasantly with a luncheon Friday for a few of the young people who have returned home from school for the holidays. Covers were placed for 12 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Barber, 523 S. Main st., will entertain with a family dinner Christmas. Places will be laid for 17 guests and holly will be used on the table. The house will be prettily decorated with holly, Christmas bells and poinsettia and a large Christmas tree will be an interesting feature. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Leininger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Barber of this city and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Edman, and Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and children of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Slick and son of Gary, will be included among the guests.

Members of the Non Pariel club were entertained at the home of Mrs. William Hobbick, 222 W. Navarre st., Thursday evening. After the business session a popcorn contest was a feature at which Mrs. George Berth and Mrs. James Collard won the favors. Toward the close of the meeting refreshments were served. In two weeks, Mrs. Dr. Vitou, 739 S. Michigan st., will entertain the club.

The Elder's club was pleasantly entertained Thursday evening with Miss Bertha Davies, 513 E. Corby st. The house was prettily decorated with Christmas bells and holly and a large Christmas tree was an enjoyable feature. Presents were exchanged by the members during the social hour. At the close of the evening a three-course supper was served with covers laid for six.

The Filia club members numbering 14 entertained with a dancing party in American hall Thursday evening for a company of 20 couples. A program of 16 dances and two extras was played by the Messick orchestra, and during the evening punch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ayres and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Monawick acted as patrons and patronesses. Miss Barbara Zellars of Terre Haute, who is visiting the Misses Mildred and Ada Steis, Miss Yvonne Moon of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Joseph Darling of Elkhart were guests from out of the city. A color note of green and white was cleverly carried out in the decoration of the hall and in the programs. Tiny streamers were draped over the lights and a column reaching the ceiling was placed in the center of the room, from which streamers were run to the walls.

Miss Zellars will be complimented with an evening party to be given by her hostesses next Monday at their home, 729 Cottage Grove av. Tuesday evening the Misses Margaret and Rosetta McHenry, 1015 Lincoln way W., and on Thursday evening Miss Margaret Sylvanus will give a theater party for her.

A group of young men entertained with an informal dance last evening at the Lally dancing studio in the J. M. S. building for a number of young women home from school for the Christmas holidays. Mrs. James A. Judie and Mrs. S. R. Pace were the chaperons for the evening, and included among the hosts were Franklin Schurz, Albert MacDonald, Harold Shaffer, Jack Studebaker, Albert Stephenson, Hugh Stephenson, Raymond Throckmorton, William Moore, Louis Inwood, Woodson Carlsale, William Butterworth, Birdsell Pace, Charles Terry, Milo Hyde and Thomas Mott.

Mrs. Eber White, 518 1/2 W. Washington av., was hostess Thursday afternoon at a pleasant meeting of the Swastika club. After an afternoon of croquet work a luncheon was served in the dining room from a table effectively centered with a Japanese basket of holly, while the places were marked with individual nut baskets. The other rooms were decorated in keeping with the season. Arrangements were made during a business meeting for a New Year's watch party to be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. White and for the regular meeting Jan. 6, at the home of Mrs. Clem Bill, 721 N. Cushing st.

Mrs. Lydia M. Sawyer, 316 W. Wayne st., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Smith, 381 Portage av., will entertain with a family dinner Christmas at the home of the former. The house will be prettily decorated with the Christmas bells and holly and a large Christmas tree will be enjoyed. The guests at dinner will number 20. Among the guests are Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Smith and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Buckley of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gurthel of Argos and D. C. Smith of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mosiman, 925 Portage av., will entertain their children and grandchildren at Christmas dinner. Among the guests will be Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Hovis and son of Milwaukee, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Krause of Indianapolis, Lloyd Mosiman of Purdue university, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lucado, 902 Golden av., and Sureda and Kenton Mosiman.

Miss Ila Shaffer, 220 Calvert st., entertained with a Christmas party Thursday afternoon honoring Miss Ruby Moody of Nashville, Tenn. Christmas decorations were prettily used in the home. During the afternoon dainty refreshments were served. Among the guests were the Misses Esther Palmer, Bernice Wayne, Mary Eagan, Ruth Mann, Leota Carey, Mildred Lane and Theresa Sandburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Lee of New York City will arrive here next week to be guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lee, 139 S. Taylor st. On New Year's day Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Taylor, 511 W. Jefferson Blvd., will entertain with a family dinner at which the Lee families will be the guests.

Mrs. A. Thore, 223 Harrison av., will entertain with a family dinner at her home Christmas. The guests will number nine and Christmas decorations will be used. The out-of-town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. William Hensell and family and Mrs. Frank Saff of Michigan City.

The Harmony Reading circle was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting. After a short program of reading, refreshments were served. Members of the club will meet Jan. 5, with Mrs. J. Marquis, 814 Diamond av.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Cuthaw of Kalamazoo, Mich., are visiting their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Cuthaw, 331 S. Franklin st., over the holidays. Mrs. M. J. Scott, 116 E. Broadway, Mishawaka, will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Cuthaw on Christmas with a dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Varier, 312 W. Wayne st., will entertain the Varier family and Dr. W. S. Whisler father of Mrs. Varier, of Calumet, Mich., at dinner Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cregier, 329 Lafayette st., will entertain with a family dinner Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Greger and daughter of Cleveland will be the out-of-town guests. Covers will be laid for 14. Christmas decorations will be used throughout the house and a Christmas tree will be an interesting feature.

Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips, 710 S. Columbia st., will entertain the Old Time Friends' club with a dinner party Jan. 4. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hammond will be the assisting host and hostess.

Paul Toepf of Detroit, Mich., and Francis Toepf of Logansport will arrive tonight to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Irmiter at 328 W. Colfax av.

FOR THOSE WHO REBEL WHEN THE DOCTOR ORDERS A MILK DIET.

Doctors now give less medicine than ever before and the time will come when a prescription will be a rarity. Instead, the medical fraternity is wisely attempting to direct natural forces to build up a weakened constitution. In the dietary of many invalids milk plays an important part. However, there are a great many to whom milk is so distasteful that its use would be more harmful than the weakened condition it is required to combat. For those who cannot drink milk, yet must secure its beneficial effects, it should be served in cocoa.

No one would think of selecting impure milk for an invalid or a convalescent person and it would be equally as unwise to accept a cocoa which is not of recognized merit. Cocoa may be served either hot or iced, just as the desire of the patient dictates. In either form it is the most nutritious food-drink to be had. In fact, scientists have found that pound for pound it contains nearly twice as many calories of heat as white wheat bread—it has nearly four times as many calories as boiled potatoes and over seven times as many as oatmeal.

SAUTE KIDNEYS.
Clean the kidneys. Have ready in a hot pan a tablespoon of butter, a little salt, pepper and dry mustard. Turn the kidneys into this mixture until well colored, then add a few drops of tobacco and two tablespoons of tomato catsup. Serve on toast.

BOILED GUINEA FOWL.
Fill the fowl with two dozen oysters and a little butter. Sew up and cover with a little soup stock and water. Boil two hours. Remove from the liquid, to this add a little dissolved flour and pour over the fowl. A few drops of lemon juice is a great addition.

DATE CUSTARD PIE.
Soak one cup of pitted dates in two cups of milk. Rub through a coarse sieve. Add two beaten eggs and flavor with a teaspoon of vanilla. Line a pie plate with a rich crust, pour in the date custard and bake in a moderate oven.

CABBAGE SALAD.
Chop the cabbage and mix with a little shredded pepper and stir in half a cup of boiled dressing.

CLUB SALAD.
Cut in fairly small pieces about the same size half a grapefruit, one orange, one cup of pineapple, one apple, one banana, one cup of white grapes and half a cup of celery. Cut the grapes in half and remove the seeds, and use only the free pulp of the orange and grapefruit. Make a French dressing of one-quarter of a cup of olive oil, the juice of a lemon, a tablespoon of sugar, a teaspoon of salt and half a teaspoon of paprika. Add this to the fruit and let stand one hour. Drain and arrange on lettuce with half a cup of raisins and mayonnaise poured over the top.

PEPPER SANDWICHES.
Butter thin slices of white bread and spread with finely chopped green peppers that have been moistened with a little butter.

NUT BARS.
Butter the bottom of a shallow pan and cover it with one-third cupful of nut meat—any kind you prefer, but do not chop the nuts too fine. Put one pound of sugar into a smooth granite saucepan and stir continually over a moderate fire until the sugar melts to syrup, but be sure to keep sugar from the sides of pan. When the syrup is all ready pour over the nuts and cut into bars when partly hardened.—Children's Blue Bird Magazine.

PANCAKES IN FRENCH STYLE.
Three eggs, two cups flour, one cup milk, half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar. Beat all together, and fry quickly in large thin cakes. Spread with fruit or jelly, dust with sugar and serve hot.—Holland's Magazine.

CHRISTMAS.

The word Christmas has as many definitions and interpretations as there are climes and dispositions. Stand in a crowd of women shoppers at Christmas time; watch their faces, listen to their scraps of conversation, that you are bound to overhear as you are jostled from side to side, and you will get more insight into character than you have any idea of.

"Oh, any old thing will do for her, she did not give me anything much last year." "I hate Christmas anyhow, you never get anything you want and you spend so much time and money." Or another type of woman will say, "Now, what can I get for her, she has everything in the world she wants, but I love her very much and I just want something personal that will show by love for her, and that I thought of her." Again we hear: "I must get something that makes a big show, that is all they care for," or, "I am looking for some little thing—I cannot afford more than a thought, but I love the spirit of Christmas."

In contrast to the New York shops, their crowds of women with long lists and worried faces, and tired shop girls, my mind goes back to a Dresden Christmas, where I found the real spirit of Christmas. From the time when Heiliger Nicolas arrives on the sixth of December, with his pack on his back filled with presents and switches to be given to the children, in accordance with their behavior during the year, until Christmas, the spirit of Christmas is everywhere. Christmas trees spring up like magic on all the street corners. Everyone buys a Christmas tree.

Christmas pantomimes are played in the theaters, and in the opera house, where two children are allowed to sit on each seat. The little royal children in their box join the
